

Oops, Granny made a mistake!

So, Please, Play the 'Match 'Em Up!' Game.

You see, it all started when I made a nice crossword puzzle for you (Gray-Haired Granny and Gray-Haired Gramps just LOVE crosswords!). After I made it, though, I got to thinking, "Hey, wait a minute, Granny. You took the answers for the puzzle right out of your book, Charlie The Dimpled Dragon. What if all the kids don't have the book? They won't be able to do your crossword!"

We just can't have that, now, can we?

So here's what Granny came up with so you can do the crossword puzzle. I made another game for you! It's called Match 'Em Up!

In this game, I put the clues of the crossword puzzle in one column and the answers in another. When you read a clue, draw a line to what you think the answer is.

I know, I know, you'll still have to guess at some of the answers. Use your imagination and give it a try. You'll have some fun and learn some things before you're done!

Oh—here's another idea! Find the easy matches first. Once you've done that, look at all the clues and answers you have left. Just imagine what Granny might have been thinking as she wrote Charlie The Dimpled Dragon—that'll sure be fun! What do YOU think the characters did?

Now, go ahead and match up the rest. Do your best, and if you really get stumped, you'll find the answers at the bottom of Match 'Em Up!
